Course Layout and Design

Do you prefer parkland courses with tree-lined fairways or links courses with open, windy conditions? Understanding the course type can help match your play style.

Location and Accessibility

Factor in travel time, transportation options, and nearby accommodations. Some courses are remote, requiring extra planning.

Season and Weather

Check the course's seasonal schedule. Some courses close for maintenance during certain months.

Cost and Tee Time Availability

Premium courses often come with higher greens fees. Consider booking early to secure a desirable tee time.
